Management Comments on Third Quarter Performance

"We continue to believe NMFC is undervalued, and our increasing internal ownership reflects our confidence in the Company's long-term value," said Steven B. Klinsky, NMFC Chairman and New Mountain Capital CEO. "In the third quarter, NMFC covered its dividend, and as we look into 2027, we believe NMFC has improving prospects."

John R. Kline, NMFC CEO, added: “We’re seeing positive underlying performance in many of our equity and PIK-yielding positions and remain focused on monetizations. Our objective is to reinvest proceeds into first-lien, cash-paying assets to improve portfolio diversification and enhance income quality.”

Portfolio and Investment Activity[4]

As of September 30, 2026, the Company’s NAV[2] was $1,008.0 million and its portfolio had a fair value of $2,265.7 million of investments in 110 portfolio companies, with a weighted average YTM at Cost[6] of approximately 12.0%. For the three months ended September 30, 2026, the Company originated $10.3 million of investments[7], offset by $35.8 million of repayments[7] and $8.1 million of sales.

Portfolio and Asset Quality

NMFC’s mandate is to primarily target businesses in the middle market that, consistent with New Mountain’s private equity platform, are high quality, defensive growth companies in industries that are well-researched by New Mountain. The Company’s focus is on defensive growth businesses that generally exhibit the following characteristics: (i) acyclicality, (ii) sustainable secular growth drivers, (iii) niche market dominance and high barriers to competitive entry, (iv) recurring revenue and strong free cash flow, (v) flexible cost structures and (vi) seasoned management teams.

The Company monitors the performance and financial trends of its portfolio companies on at least a quarterly basis. The Company attempts to identify any developments within the portfolio company, the industry, or the macroeconomic environment that may alter any material element of the Company’s original investment strategy. As described more fully in the Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange

Commission, the portfolio monitoring procedures are designed to provide a simple, yet comprehensive analysis of the Company's portfolio companies based on their operating performance and underlying business characteristics, which in turn forms the basis of its Risk Rating. The Risk Rating is expressed in categories of Green, Yellow, Orange and Red with Green reflecting an investment that is in-line with or above expectations and Red reflecting an investment performing materially below expectations.

The following table shows the Risk Rating of the Company's portfolio companies as of September 30, 2026:

(in millions)	As of September 30, 2026
Risk Rating	Cost	Percent	Fair Value	Percent	Weighted Average Mark[11]

(1) Adjusted net investment income for Q3 2026 excludes $0.6 million of accelerated deferred financing costs, comprising $0.4 million related to the commitment decrease of the Holdings Credit Facility, $0.2 million related to the full and partial repayment of the SBIC I and SBIC II SBA-guaranteed debentures and a corresponding incentive fee adjustment.

(2) Excludes non-controlling interest in New Mountain Net Lease Corporation (“NMNLC”).

(3) The Q3 2026 dividend yield calculation uses the closing stock price of $7.03 on October 30, 2026 and includes annualized dividends of $0.25 per share, to be paid in Q4 2026. The Q3 2025 dividend yield calculation uses the closing stock price of $9.67 on October 31, 2025 and includes annualized dividends of $0.32 per share, which were paid in Q4 2025.

(4) Includes claim related to the collateralized agreement to resell.

(5) Excludes the Company’s United States Small Business Administration (“SBA”) guaranteed debentures.

(6) References to “YTM at Cost” assume the accruing investments, including secured collateralized agreements, in the Company's portfolio as of a certain date, the ‘‘Portfolio Date’’, are purchased at cost on that date and held until their respective maturities with no prepayments or losses and are exited at par at maturity. This calculation excludes the impact of existing leverage. YTM at Cost uses the Sterling Overnight Index Average Rate (“SONIA”), Euro Interbank Offered Rate (“EURIBOR”) and Secured Overnight Financing Rate (“SOFR”) curves at each quarter’s respective end date. The actual yield to maturity may be higher or lower due to the future selection of SONIA, EURIBOR and SOFR contracts by the individual companies in the Company’s portfolio or other factors.

(7) Originations exclude payment-in-kind (“PIK”); originations, repayments, and sales exclude revolvers, unfunded commitments, bridges, return of capital, and realized gains / losses.

(8) Excludes NMFC Senior Loan Program III LLC (“SLP III”), NMFC Senior Loan Program IV LLC (“SLP IV”), Structured Finance Obligations and NMNLC.

(9) Includes investments held in NMNLC.

(10) Includes investments classified as structured finance obligations and claim related to the collateralized agreement to resell.

(11) Does not include unfunded commitments, common equity investments, SLPs, NMNLC, or non-yielding preferred investments.
